Welcome to summer, 2022!

What a year we're having already with so much accomplished and plenty to look forward to in the coming months. I am delighted to be leading a new vision for our brand into 2022, and hope you will be inspired by the changes you'll see both online and in our stores.

Maidstone joins the family

We started the year by refreshing our brand into Lenleys Home, giving our Canterbury store an external makeover and also starting work on our major investment plans to relaunch our Maidstone store (formerly Clarkes Maidstone) as Lenleys Home Maidstone.

Bringing together our two businesses under one brand will strengthen our offer as one of the leading luxury furnishers and family businesses in the South East region.

Canterbury Storefront Makeover

Speaking of luxury, have you seen our new additions from Orla Kiely, Ercol, Alexander & James and David Gundry upholstery. We also have a new flooring design studio, making it easier than ever for you to plan the perfect base for your next home project.

Alexander & James

kiely  ercol

If you prefer to keep your retailing virtual, we have a stunning new website to browse and I think you'll love what we've done to showcase our extensive products, collections and expert services online.

Using our unbeatable family experience, on-hand expertise from the team and tried-and-tested techniques from my background in fashion and high street retail, I am excited to further enhance the signature shopping experience you've come to expect from us these past 85 years, both instore or online.

This is an exciting year for Lenleys. As ever we always have the confidence to innovate where needed, bringing in new styles and way of retailing.

We still, though, have the same values and ambitions as my grandfather when he started the business – providing good quality furniture at reasonable prices with great, personal customer service.

We can't wait to see you instore or online, and look forward to making your dream interior a reality.
